

WHAT IS BFT DOING DURING COVID-19?

BFT IS PROTECTING EMPLOYEES AND CUSTOMERS

During these challenging times, BFT remains focused on meeting our community's public transportation needs. Placing top priority on employee and rider safety, our decisions are informed by guidance from national, state and local health authorities, and aligned with relevant state and local orders.

We are closely monitoring the situation and adapting our health and safety mitigation efforts for all BFT employees, services, and facilities in response to changing conditions. As our community continues its path forward through COVID-19, BFT will be prepared to move forward safely.

ENSURING A CLEAN AND SAFE ENVIRONMENT

BFT is doing all we can to ensure the health and safety of our customers, especially related to cleaning and social distancing procedures. Our ongoing efforts include:

ENHANCED CLEANING

- Sanitizing every vehicle daily, as well as additional sanitization of high-touch surfaces on vehicles, at transit centers, and in BFT facilities
- Closing indoor BFT facilities to minimize opportunities for exposure
- Coordinating with industry peers and experts to evaluate emerging sanitizing technology and procedures

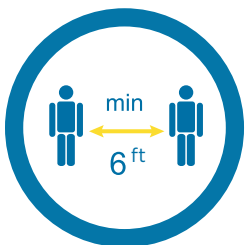

PRIORITIZING PERSONAL SAFETY

- Imposing rider limits on vehicles to allow onboard distancing
- Installing social distancing decals at transit centers and in other areas
- Requiring employees and customers to wear face coverings in accordance with current guidance
- Encouraging other safety hygiene measures including hand washing and staying home when sick
- Discouraging non-essential travel

PRIORITIZING THE HEALTH OF OUR BFTeam

Throughout the pandemic, our employees have tirelessly done their part to ensure safe and reliable travel for those who need it, and will continue to do so. In turn, we continue to implement measures and launch new protocols to make certain that our employees have a safe work environment, including:

- Distributing masks and hand sanitizer on an ongoing basis to every employee
- Establishing and maintaining social distancing protocols at all work locations
- Providing up-to-date information from leadership related to services, benefits, guidance or processes
- Implementing and maintaining single facility entry points, temperature checks and free COVID-19 testing for all employees
- Installing operator barriers on in-service vehicles to reduce exposure risk
- Adapting public facing business offices and functions to ensure proper distancing between employees and customers

BFT is committed to these efforts to protect the safety of our employees and customers. The latest information on all our efforts related to COVID-19 can be found at www.bft.org/Safety.
